

What topic would you like to see at the AROC 2019 and 2020 Conventions?

- Pre-Convention Tours, based out of host hotel if possible
- for the 2020 convention, tech support from Wes Ingram, maybe something from Centerline
- no opinion
- An opportunity to have a meeting/gathering of "model" specialist/enthusiast to discuss items of interest. (Like for "Montreal"™s, Giulietta, etc)
- TSD Rally, Guided Tours, Auto Cross, Theme Dinners
- tech presentation about the new cars
- Personally I like the Time Trials and Autocross. However, what is lacking at conventions now is actual FACTORY presence. It's good to have dealer support, but where is the FACTORY?
- Tech session with Q&A with the Alfa gurus--Tom Sahines, Wes Ingram, etc.
- Practical restoration advice
- Huh?
- DIY repairs
- Fix common Alfa problems and maintenance...demonstrations: tuning carbs, adjusting brakes....Vendor discounts
- Alfas in the parking lot Tech. info. was very interesting.
- Valuating an Alfa
- A good mix of info and events around the new cars as well as an event focus on historic Alfas.
- Investing in Alfas for mere mortals
- Technical seminars and collectibility/market trends are always good.
- More opportunities for interaction with other attendees - have drink stations in the parking lot each night when no other event is scheduled. Do a better job of keeping non-Alfas out of the Alfa-only parking area -make it clear to attendees who came without an Alfa that their minivan is not to be parked among the Alfas.
- I will leave it to others to decide on
- One Hotel as the hub for drives and show. Workshop about older cars.
- Restoration seminars
- Talk on the history of Alfa Romeo
- Collecting Alfas and. Where to find quality replacement parts and services.
- More tech stuff
- Education about what is available through the library
- Topic?
- Perhaps more technical workshops or some tune-up sessions. I would also find a way to encourage EVERY Alfa to at least be in the display section, good, bad, or ugly, during the concourse. There were a lot of cars in the parking lot that should have be "displayed" .
- New owners / owners with one Alfa / maintaining an Alfa /
- Length of the convention.
- More contacts with worldwide AROC clubs
- Future models
- technical topics regarding older Alfa's
- Seminars on car value and maintenance
- Don't know
- Tech sessions on various topics
- A few more seminars on finding parts for Alfas from the 1950s through the 1980's would be nice
- Unsure. I'm unlikely to attend.
- More in-depth on collecting. Also thought the dinner speaker was outstanding and a creative link to Alfa Romeos and sports car culture.
- A rep from Alfa Romeo to talk about the brands immediate plans/future.
- Maybe more on maintenance necessary to keep old cars running.
- The art of owning a transaxle car
- A presentation on Alfa history for the new car owners.
- motocross, all classes
- More from the Alfa National Company - plans, cars, organization
- Future of Alfa in the FCA plans, and any upcoming cars/vehicles. Test drives of whatever Alfa is offering.
- photo contest
- more screens in banquet room so all can see photos
- "flashlight" concours at night for fun
- more attention to new Alfas, need programs
- autocross
- centered pre-tour hotel hub
- chapter websites (and print newsletter); mechanics/service by Sahines or Wes or ??
- more on 80s/90s/today's cars
- getting into Vintage racing (2019); "Touring Colorado" session (2020)
- Restoration basics - what can't be fixed easily
- A little more dealer participation and presentations. If at all possible. It would be nice if Alfa Romeo would have a representative to talk to the membership, promote the brand and reasons to buy new versus stay with your classic.
- Continue to provide the pre tours. It gives you a chance to experience the area before there are too many conflicts for time.
